

CALL FOR PAPERS

9TH CONFERENCE OF THE INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR TOURISM ECONOMICS

2024

21-24 MAY

UCF ROSEN COLLEGE OF HOSPITALITY MANAGEMENT,
ORLANDO, UNITED STATES

The conference provides an opportunity for researchers, scholars, and practitioners to exchange ideas on key research issues in the field of tourism economics.

CONFERENCE THEMES

- Economic modelling of tourism
- Tourism competitiveness
- Tourism & the environment
- Tourism & Well-being / Happiness
- Climate change and tourism
- Economic analysis of tourism demand
- Tourism, economic growth & development
- Behavioral economics of tourism
- Transport for tourism
- Transaction costs in tourism
- Tourism forecasting and recovery
- Innovation in tourism
- The economic contribution/impact of tourism
- Tourism, labor markets & human capital
- Tourism policy/taxation
- The economics of tourism supply
- The economics of special events
- Big data in tourism research
- Evolutionary patterns in tourism
- Crisis & Tourism

KEY DATES

Abstract submission 17 November 2023
Acceptance notification 11 December 2023
Full paper submission (optional) 8 March 2024

Submissions should be in English and include title, name of the author(s), affiliation, up to 5 keywords and abstract (100 – 500 words) OR extended abstract (up to 2000 words). Authors with accepted submissions can optionally upload the full paper at a later stage.

Authors are not compelled to submit the full paper, but only full papers are eligible for entry into the best paper award. Presentations based only on a submitted abstract may be allocated less time than full paper submissions.

A pre-conference workshop will be organized for PhD students with feedback from established academics on their PhD research projects.

SUBMISSIONS MANAGED BY EASYCHAIR
an external Conference Management System.

Submissions can be uploaded in EasyChair at:
<https://easychair.org/conferences/?conf=iate2024>.

CALL FOR PANELS

The Scientific Committee will evaluate the relevance and quality of the proposals received and will be responsible for the selection of the panels.

Once the selection of the proposals is complete, the information will be updated on the website. The conveners will be informed about the decision of the scientific committee by the organizers.

Panels will be open to accepting papers from conference participants, and the responsibility of selection of papers and inclusivity will lie with the panel conveners.

Only one panel proposal will be accepted per person. At least two of the presenters on the panel must be from different institutions/affiliations.

Panel proposals should include the title and abstract stating the subject and objectives of the proposal, highlighting its academic or practical relevance to tourism economics (maximum 300 words).

Panel proposal should be sent to the Academic Program Chair: Professor Stephen Pratt (stephen.pratt@ucf.edu).

CONFERENCE INFO

For more information including submission guidelines, program, destination information, and fees:

Visit (Website IATE2024)

WHY SHOULD YOU ATTEND THIS CONFERENCE?

- Showcase your tourism economics research, connect with fellow researchers, and explore UCF Rosen College, a world-class hospitality hub.
- Exceptional papers may be published in Sage Publishing's Tourism Economics journal.